SAD MISHAP.

Triple Drowning in Bloody Run Creek, Near Cincinnati.

The Heavy Rain Had Swollen the Usually Singlish Stream—The Horrifying Discovery of a Father, The Bodies Recovered After Hard Work.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 13.—Bloody Run creek, north of Walnut Hills, has conquered once again in its ghastly way upon human life. The place has become a memorable one, owing to the many tragic events which have transpired there within the past few years.

Sunday afternoon, George Baker, of Mt. Lookout, and his cousin, Howard Givan, started for Bloody Run, with the intention of going in bathing.

During the past month this creek has been a tiny stream of water trickling through rubbish and over hills, but with the advent of the rain of the past three days it became quite deep and treacherous in the extreme.

When the two young men arrived opposite a large spruce tree on the bank of the stream they noticed several piles of clothing. Several minutes later Baker stepped upon the body of a boy. Horrified beyond expression he stood and gazed upon it for a moment, and then, recovering himself, called Givan's attention to it. They then examined it more closely and found that it was the body of a boy about twelve years old.

Near the tree was a hole filled with water, which was about eight feet deep and in this the boy's body had become mired. Not being able to remove it from the mud the two boys called for help, and a named Carl Schmitt responded to their cries. He was at once notified to get help, and he hurried away, and the two young men again resumed their efforts to move the body to the bank. Before help arrived they succeeded in doing so by means of a fence rail, which they used as a lever.

Three sets of clothing were found, on examination to be the pile on the bank and a hint was at once made for the other two bodies. In a few minutes they were also found in the hole and brought to the bank, where they were laid side by side.

Later in the afternoon the bodies were identified as Matthew, Charles and Wm. Slattery, aged 12, 15, and 16, and their parents live at 55 Symmes street, Walnut Hills. They were identified by the boys' fathers, who had been attracted to the place by the fact that their boys were missing from home and the realization of their grave fears was a hard blow.

The only explanation that is thought plausible for the drowning of all three of the boys is that one of them put his head in the hole and was seized with cramp. He called to the other boys for help, and they responded and all of them went down together.

THE PULLMAN CHARTER.

Attorney General Maloney Declares There Is No Compromise Behind Him In His Present Fight.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 13.—Attorney General Maloney Sunday discussed the filing of his petition for quo warranto to forfeit the charter of the Pullman Palace Car Co., and declared emphatically that no body was "behind him" in the quo warranto proceeding, and that he had contemplated such a coup during the most exciting period of the strike, but was advised by friends to wait.

"Was the determination to attack the Pullman Co.'s right to its franchise a sudden thing?" he was asked.

"By no means," he began to look into the facts of the case. In June last I had finished my investigation, and made it clear that the company had forgotten, consequently, all about the original powers, and had gone on creating more of its own. The company was created in 1857 by a special act of the legislature to engage in the manufacture of railroad cars. It has, however, acquired over 500 acres of land. It built its shops also fifty acres of land, which it rents for profit. Its charter gives it no such rights."

TARIFF'S FATE.

The House Surrenders to the Senate's Demands—A Vote of 103 to 21 Declines It.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—A meeting was held in Speaker Crisp's room Monday morning to decide what action the house leaders should take with reference to the tariff bill in the caucus.

Mr. Holman, chairman of the caucus, took the chair immediately upon the assembling of that body at 10 o'clock. When the roll call (which showed that 143 members were present) was completed a high expectancy fell upon the caucus.

Mr. Wilson, chairman of the ways and means committee, took the floor. Although outwardly calm and cool, he was manifestly laboring under deep emotion. His speech for the first five minutes was general in character and contained no specific points. It was devoted to the beginning to an explanation of the embarrassments under which the house conferees had labored. He said that the representatives of the house had gone into the conference with a desire of faithfully representing the wishes of their constituents.

"That they had failed to reach a satisfactory conclusion—a conclusion honorable alike to the house and to democratic party—was not their fault."

Continuing, Mr. Wilson made a special reference to the sugar schedule. He briefly stated the different propositions relating to sugar which had been advanced in the conference, and proceeded to show at some length the profits which would accrue to the trust from the acceptance of these various propositions.

The report which reached the corridors from the caucus a few minutes before 11 o'clock was that Speaker Crisp offered a resolution to accept the senate bill, and that the understanding was if such resolution should be adopted it would be followed by the passage through the house during the present week of a series of separate bills placing sugar, coal and iron on the free list.

Mr. Wilson went on to show that the house people had contended stoutly for a specific rather than an ad valorem duty on sugar. A specific duty would show precisely what benefit the trust would get, while it would be impossible to determine this accurately under the ad valorem system. He said that the sugar trust, becoming convinced that the senate schedule would be adopted, had made heavy purchases of foreign raw sugar.

He then made the startling statement on the authority of a leading democratic senator, that the trust had bought sugar to the amount of $12,000,000 in the foreign markets, in anticipation of the senate sugar schedule receiving the approval of the president. Under the senate schedule the trust would reap a profit of $10,000,000. The declaration by Mr. Wilson that the sugar trust had the people by the throat, and that it was now a battle between the people and this great round of applause.

Mr. Wilson referred to the proposition made to the house conferees by their senatorial associates to accept free sugar. This proposition was rejected, inasmuch as the representatives of the house had ascertained that a compact existed in the senate to defeat tariff legislation or postpone its consideration until next December if free sugar were made a part of the conference report. He turned at this point and called upon his associates.

Montgomery, Breckinridge, McMillan and Turner to substantiate this statement.

Mr. McMillan immediately arose and said that from the beginning of the conference they had been given to understand from day to day that any placement of the senate rates on sugar, coal and iron would lead to absolute defeat, or at least the postponement of the bill.

When Mr. Wilson had finished Speaker Crisp arose and was greeted with applause. He began by saying that the house must take the senate bill. While the senate bill must be adopted, the house would make a determined effort for free sugar. He elaborated his statement that the senate bill must be adopted or there would be no tariff legislation at all. This has not been officially announced, but is regarded as authoritative. Mr. Quigley is a brilliant young lawyer, who gained fame during his two terms as representative from McCracken county.

TREATY RATIFIED.

Chinese Laborers Prohibited From Coming Into the United States.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—The Chinese treaty, which was ratified by the senate Monday by a vote of 47 to 30, provides that for a period of ten years the coming, except under conditions specified, of Chinese laborers to the United States shall be absolutely prohibited. This does not apply to the return of any registered Chinese laborer who has a lawful wife, child or parent in the United States, or property here of the value of $1,000, or debts of like amount due him and pending settlements.

Every such laborer is required before leaving the United States to deposit with the collector a full description in writing of his family, property, etc. The right to return must be exercised within one year from date of leaving, but the right to return may be extended for good cause one year. This treaty does not affect the right not enjoyed by certain designated Chinese laborers (who are not laborers) to travel or to come to the United States or reside therein. Chinese laborers have the privilege of transit through the United States.

The United States recognizes the right of the Chinese government to enforce registry regulations similar to those of the United States against all American laborers, skilled or unskilled, in China, whether residing within or without the treaty ports. The United States also agrees to furnish the Chinese government an annual report of all its citizens, including missionaries, who are in China.

TARIFF BILL PASSED.

The Senate Bill Accepted by the House.

On last Monday evening the lower House of Congress passed the Senate Tariff Bill by a vote of 182 to 105. While the bill is not all that the Democratic party wants, it is a great improvement over the McKinley law, and was adopted because it was the best that could possibly be secured at present, owing to the immovable position of three untrite Senators. After a desperate struggle to bring them into line the other Democratic Representatives saw that they had to take their choice between the Senate bill and no bill at all. Of course they chose the Senate bill. Not being able to get all they wanted, they took the best that could be secured.

The rates of the Senate bill average a 30 per cent. reduction of the McKinley rates. The best informed newspaper man in Washington estimates that the new law is 50 per cent. better than the Mills bill and 100 per cent. better than the McKinley law.

The fight for thorough tariff reform will never be abandoned until fully accomplished. Three men have succeeded in defeating it temporarily, but the Democratic party can not be held responsible.

Hon. J. M. Quay has been appointed to fill out Chief Justice Bennett's unexpired term.

It is said that Madeline Pollard will appear on the stage in October. She will make her debut in Chicago.

The Democrats have an excellent ticket in this county—one which every member of the party can afford to work for.

The Republicans who are gleefully referring to the opposition of the Democratic Congressmen to the new tariff law have evidently forgotten that the same state of affairs existed in the ranks of their own party when the McKinley bill was returned from the Senate torn to tatters. A good "forgetter" is sometimes better than a good memory.

The rider on the last bicycle relay from Washington reached Denver Sunday night. The time consumed in carrying the message the distance—2,007 miles—was six days, ten hours and thirty-seven minutes, a gain of thirty-seven hours and twenty-three minutes over the schedule time, breaking eleven records.

The new tariff bill is not all the Democratic party wants nor all that it is going to have, although it is a great improvement over the McKinley law. It makes an average reduction of about thirty per cent., which is a big step in the right direction. Four traitorous Senators stood immovable in the way of further improvement, but they have thereby killed themselves politically. The party will now go to work with renewed vigor to displace those traitors with men who will act with the party to carry out the wishes of a large majority of the people of the United States.

With a calm satisfaction the Democratic party awaits the judgment of the people as to the responsibility of the panic of the past two years. It began before the Democratic party came into power. It is ending with the inauguration of Democratic tariff laws. The delay was objectionable, to be sure, but no honest man will blame the party or its leaders for this. The Republican Senators and the four who slipped into the Senate under Democratic colors and hold the balance of power are responsible. The principles of tariff for revenue only are just as potent as ever and just as sure to triumph, because they contemplate justice and equal rights to all men.

If business doesn't improve under the new tariff law during the coming year the Republicans may then be able to make some progress toward causing the people to believe that the hard times under the McKinley law were due to some vague cause for which the Democratic party is supposed to be responsible. But if the country should fail to go to the dogs; and if the panic of the past two years should be broken; and if business get better and prosperity come to the country, then, oh then, would the Republican leaders look with dismay upon the shower of boomerangs in the shape of malicious predictions and of false accusations against the Democratic party, returning upon their own heads.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, procured it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in cases from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. "They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address, F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by druggists, 75c.

Hon. John Breckenridge Howes, of Bracken county, Representative in the Kentucky Legislature, is being urged by his county to make the race for the Democratic nomination for Congress in this district to fill the vacancy to be caused by the resignation of Hon. T. H. Paynter. He will be given a kindly consideration by Lawrence county. He is known here by reputation and has some relatives in this county.

The Hazel Green Herald thinks W. J. Seitz, of West Liberty, lost the Republican nomination for Congress in the Tenth district because he had a habit of telling the truth during the canvass. While it is undoubtedly true that truth-telling would be an element of weakness in a Republican convention, it is probable that other causes had something to do with Mr. Seitz's defeat. The Herald says: "Talking about hard times reminds us of our neighbor and friend, W. J. Seitz, of West Liberty, lost the Republican nomination for Congress by being too honest in his opinion. He was up in Pike county making the canvass and a lot of farmers around him were crying down the Administration and accusing it of being the cause of hard times. He turned to several and asked them if they produced any hay, corn, oats, hogs, etc., for market, to which he in every case received a negative reply. Then he told them if they would each and all produce something to sell times would be better. That settled his chance for Congress. They realized the truth of the remark, and decided that he was not a safe man to send to Washington. They wanted a man who could think as they did."

If there is any doubt in the mind of any person as to which political party in Kentucky possesses the intelligence, refinement and wealth, they should read the following from the Glasgow Times:

"In the State of Kentucky there are 119 counties. Of these eighty-six are Democratic, thirty-three Republican. The average value of land in the Democratic counties is $13.92 per acre; in the Republican $1.62. The highest average in a Democratic county (Fayette) is $63.40; in a Republican county (Christian) $11.70. Four Democratic counties average over $40, sixteen over $20, none under $2, and five more than $2 and less than $3. Three of the Republican counties average over $6 and less than $7, five less than $3, and two less than $2. These figures are respectfully referred to the careful perusal of our Republican and Third party friends, who are continually heaping abuse upon the Democratic party for its 'idleness and general worthlessness and indolence.'"

Mr. Thomas Batte, editor of the Graphic, Texarkana, Arkansas, has found what he believes to be the best remedy, in existence for the flux. His experience is well worth remembering. He says: "Last summer I had a very severe attack of flux. I tried almost every known remedy, none giving relief. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was recommended to me. I purchased a bottle and received almost immediate relief. I continued to use the medicine and was entirely cured. I take pleasure in recommending this remedy to any person suffering with such a disease, as in my opinion it is the best medicine in existence." 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by A. M. Don't Dam Salt River. Louisville Times: The proposal of that Taylorsville milling company to build a dam across Salt river can not be entertained for a moment, unless a lock goes with the dam. The Legislature, history, and a large human experience all declare Salt river navigable stream, and tolls, argosies and Grand Armadas of political ambitions are now being loaded for the late fall trip up the classic and treacherous stream. Those Spencer county promoters can go ahead with their mill by a dam site, but there will shall be no dam by their mill site.

September 1st, the Last Day.

This date may not be the last day of all time, but it is positively the latest date that you can rent an Electropoise for two months for five dollars. All orders received on or before this time will receive prompt attention; all new instruments. Don't delay until the last day before making up your mind; take advantage of it right now. One of our patrons thus aptly expresses himself: "The Electropoise has cured me of neuralgia, indigestion and a complication of other ailments which had so completely wrecked my nervous system that my life was a burden. I had been sick for twenty years. I realize that The Electropoise is a propelling force in nature's store house for suffering humanity. It is nature's remedy, whose healing effect is so silent, so sure and yet so mysterious that it is justly termed the wonder of the age."

Monthly Crop Report.

A very large per cent. of the wheat crop of the State has been threshed—fully enough to show that a good crop has been raised—while the yield per acre is not so good in some parts of the State, principally those counties that suffered most from the snow, all the correspondents say that the berry is of a very superior quality. I heard a miller say, "that this year's crop of wheat was really worth five cents more per bushel than last year's crop, on account of the superior quality of the grain." Some of the best wheat raising counties in the State suffered very greatly from the snow, and their yields will not be very large, but the average yield of the State will be nearly up to an average. The price continues very low; in fact, the market reports last week show that the price was lower than that of corn. Many farmers are using their crops as they did last year, feeding it to hogs; in fact, some farmers did not harvest their crop at all, but turned their hogs in the field. A gentleman in Mercer county said to me: That he was satisfied that he had saved the cost of harvesting his crop by turning in his hogs, and letting them eat it up. Very little plowing has been done for wheat as yet, and, from present prices, the farmer has poor encouragement to sow a large crop. Our best wheat raisers think that all wheat ground, both sod and stubble, should be plowed as early as practicable, in order that it may settle and become firm before sowing. I have obtained reports from a number of correspondents as to the yield per acre, some few not being able to give an estimate. From those reporting, I place the estimate at 16½ bushels per acre.

One month ago I reported a prospect for the largest crop of corn ever raised in the State, and I might say, from all reports from other States, the largest in the United States, but a month can make a very great difference in a corn crop. The rains have not been general by any means, and in many places where it has rained, there has not been enough to do any good. Reports from a great many counties say "no rain of any consequence since the snow." I read very carefully the reports, and find it a very difficult matter to tell which part of the State has suffered most from want of rain. I rather believe that the Western and Southern portions have reported more rain than the Middle and Eastern parts, but the drought seems to be very widespread, not confined to our State alone, but to most of the corn-growing States. The average condition of the crop is placed at 82 per cent.

All correspondents agree that the early planting of tobacco is doing fairly well, making good growth and prospects of a fair crop, but that the late setting is doing little or no good on account of the dry hot weather. In many places it is firing very badly. The present condition does not indicate a very large crop. The average acreage is placed at 79 per cent. The average condition is placed at 75 per cent.

From the reports of correspondents all kinds of pastures are unusually short for this time of year. It is not an uncommon thing to commence feeding out stock in September, but not often the case in August. Stock water is reported very scarce in some counties. The condition as reported is 67 per cent.

The timothy hay crop is very short, but was put in the stack in fine condition. The per cent., as reported, is placed at 68.

The average yield of oats per acre is 25 1-5 bushels.

Reports good as to stock of all kinds from all parts of the State. No disease of any kind has been reported.

Remarks as to fruit—generally a failure—some few late apples in some sections. About seventy-five per cent. of a crop of grapes.

In many places gardens are seriously injured. Early potatoes will make a fair crop.

NICHOLAS McDOWELL, Commissioner.

The success of Mrs. Annie Deam, of McKeesport, Pennsylvania, in the treatment of diarrhoea in her children will undoubtedly be of interest to many mothers. She says: "I spent several weeks in Johnston, Pa., after the great flood, on account of my husband being employed there. We had several children with us, two of whom took diarrhoea very badly. I got some of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy from Rev. Mr. Chapman. It cured both of them. I knew of several other cases where it was equally successful. I think it cannot be excelled and cheerfully recommend it." 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by A. M. Hughes, Louisville, Ky.

River and Harbor Bill.
The President has as yet taken no action upon the river and harlow the bill to become a law with-

Business Reviving.

Immediately upon the passage of the tariff bill the business of the country took a jump forward. Tele-graph wires were kept busy with orders and the dispatches charac-terize the extent of the activity as wonderful. The business men are in high spirits over the realization of their hopes.

Some reductions in wages may be looked for in the manufacturing The overfed monopolies will use the tariff reductions as an excuse for making a cut. The long existence of laws for their special benefit has made them so hoggish that they will not consent to a division of their enormous profits with their workmen as long as they can resist it. But the day when the manufacturer must be satisfied with reasonable profits, and when he must be willing to pay his laborers good wages is not far distant.

Base Ball.

The Louisa ball club returned Saturday, having won two games and lost two on their trip. They broke even with Ashland. Manager Bryant, of Ashland, took his club to Cattlettsburg on Friday and the Louisa team beat them by a score of 9 to 5, with Welch in the box. Kouns and Rhodes did the battery work for Ashland. The Louisa boys put up a fine game.

On Saturday our boys went to Ashland minus pitcher Billips and Wayne Bromley. Smith, of Ironton, pitched and Blackwell played first. Welch did not play. The result was the same as in the first Huntington game. The first baseman made a number of errors, which are responsible for at least half of Ashland's scores. Blackwell can play a fine game when he wants to.

The game resulted in a score of 10 to 1 in Ashland's favor.
The experience the boys had on their trip with foreign first basemen will probably teach them a good lesson. It ought to do so.

Nothing definite as to the forthcoming movements of the club is known.

The Ashland Daily News thinks the Louisa base ball club will not insist upon the other return game due it. The club will certainly insist upon having the other return game. It is a matter of honor with the Ashland club to return it.

The Ashland management is guilty of some very small tricks.
All lost games are charged to the "second nine" and all victories to "The Ashland Club." The latter is an uncertain quantity and is applied to any aggregation that happens to win—no matter who the players are, or from how many towns they are gathered. We know of one game this season (and it was not with the Louisa club, either,) which looked for some time like it was going against Ashland.
The excuse was promptly raised that it was not the first nine. The game ended in Ashland's favor, however, and the credit was then claimed for "The Ashland Club."

BEAUTIFUL SLEEP
—is an expression
used for sound sleep. Nothing is so gratifying to the nerves, heart,
and head, as perfect sleep—a companion of good digestion and a healthy liver. A food digestion fails to assimilate, or take care of, the food we eat. Something tracing or invigorating is needed for the liver, stomach, and intestines.

This is where you will find Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets do the most good. They are tiny, sugar-coated pills, scarcely larger than mustard seed, made of concentrated botanical extracts. These "Pellets" are easily dissolved in the stomach and a flow of bile from the liver, stimulating a flow of bile from the liver, and arousing to activity all the glandular secretions. Thus they act in nature's own way.

They're guaranteed to give satisfaction, or money refunded, in all Bilious Attacks, in Rich Headaches, Constipation, Dizziness, and Indigestion.

When you have Catarrh, use the sure remedy—Dr. Sage's. $5.00 for an incurable case.

The San Francisco Post of July 23d contained the following notice of an experiment by Lieutenant Commander Reeder, of the U. S.
Cruiser, Charleston who is a brother of Mr. George Reeder, of this place:

There was quite a sensation at the mole at 1 o'clock yesterday morning, Lieutenant Reeder, commanding the Government forces, gave everybody a surprise. He wanted to see just what his men could do in case of a riot. Not an officer or man on board the Alameda or Garden City knew his plans.

At 1 o'clock a.m., the lieutenant had the "call to arms" sounded on the bugle. The "blue jackets" responded to the call and under orders boarded the train near at hand.

The train consisted of a flat car, with two flatbeds and their crews of thirty-six men; then came the engine and two passenger cars bearing the blue jackets.

From the time the call sounded until the train moved just twelve minutes elapsed. The train was run at top speed to lower 2, a distance of one and a half miles, where it stopped. From the time the call sounded until the train stopped just fifteen minutes elapsed. The officers and men were sound asleep when the call was given. Each man had 100 rounds of ammunition and the Gatlings 15,000 rounds. It was considered a remarkable piece of work, and Lieutenant Reeder felt proud of the achievement. All the men thought that they had been called out for active work, and did not know that it was a drill until they returned to the station.

He Found Phillips.

The fellows who go after Frank Phillips, of Pike county, have all had the worst of the trip, so far.
Here is the result of the last attempt to capture or kill him:

An unknown man claiming to be a detective, was shot by Frank Phillips on the 2nd inst. Some of Phillips' children found the man hiding near the house of Phillips, and informed their father of the fact. In the meantime the man left and Phillips followed him and getting ahead of him in a gap between Peter and Poplar, waited for him to come in sight. When he came up Phillips halted him, and he immediately fired on Phillips.

Phillips returned the fire and wounded him in the arm in such a manner as to make amputation necessary. Phillips, on condition that he would tell who sent him to his house, spared his life, and the man confessed that he had been sent to capture or kill Phillips by James Hatfield, Bud France, Peggie Vance and Sarah Christian.

France was to give him a horse and Winchester rifle; Sarah Christian, $5; Peggie Vance, $200 or $300; and Hatfield a sum not stated. Phillips bound up the fellow's wound and sent him to a doctor, but retained his Winchester and pistol.
